

PLOGGA ON TOUR, EUROPE 2022

We get goosebumps when we sum up the last couple of months of our Plogga on Tour Europé! With our Plogga camper we have passed through Sweden, Germany, France and dedicated some extra focus on Spain and Portugal.

We have met with three "Presidents/Mayors" from different cities, started a nationwide Plogga tour in Portugal in 35 places, lectured at a handful of schools, planted Plogga trees, Plogga on trail running events, created Plogga run in Stockholm (every Wednesday) and made our message heard in a lot of magazines as; some largest magazines as La Vanguardia in Spain and Teva Hadvarim in Israel, interviews in such diverse media and podcasts as REB BULL international, Mindful running in India and at the large LGBTQ profile Tiffany Rossdale in Japan and so on...

We have noticed what an impact our Swedish movement have and what difference we can make and we are so proud to show that this is a Swedish phenomenon and that we and "Greta" aim the way.

During our journey to different countries these last 5 years and now with Plogga on Tour Europe, we noticed how "exotic" and interesting it is for schools, municipalities and Press that Erik, the Founder of this global major health and environmental movement Plogga/Plogging, have had during lectures and inspiration.

PLEASE CONTRIBUTE

If you would like to contribute you are more than welcome, we are in great need of income in order to build a global organization. Any help is appreciated. Please contact us at info@plogga.se Ploggas glimpse of the future is that we are completely convinced that travel and competitions will look completely different.

You will want to "give back" to nature and the place you visit. Goodie bag and free stuff will be removed. Flight shame makes it even more relevant to travel or compete with a responsibility, that's when Plogga comes in. All trash that we find (read Plogga) we will be able to calculate in CO₂ emission.
